Sue Matson watches over her Trillium

Judith Bolton in her Redwood Orchid

February

“My first encounter with the Redwood Orchid was in the Spring of 1968. Deep in the woods, transcendence overtook the moment. My soul appeared within the luminescent purple of the orchid. A new consciousness gave me the humility necessary to see and smell its beauty. Each new Spring renews that bond.” Judith Bolton

Prue Wilcox in a tub of Crocus

April

“Elk has been my home since 1983. I have been a member of the Greenwood Civic Club ever since. Through the years, the club has given me inspiration to help with fundraisers and to join with my fellow members in projects - always with laughter, lots of fun & friends I will never forget.” Prue Wilcox

Joan Rudman plays cello in a garden of Blue Flax

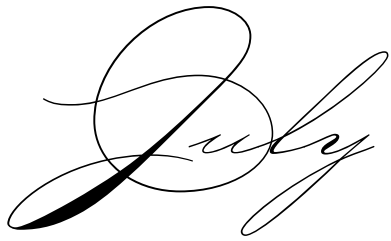

June

“I have been a member of the Greenwood Civic Club since 1978. Greenwood-Elk, is a town of family & sharing, filled with rich memories of past generations. A place to slow down, appreciate the natural beauty, & stimulate one’s body & mind. To me, the Blue Flax represents Elk’s sparkle and spirit and its simple, natural beauty” Joan Rudman

Jeanna Kennedy and Patty Wolfe celebrate in 4th of July Roses

“Friendship, service and love of community are found in the Greenwood Civic Club. Like the Rose, it boasts a peaceful spirit. It gives me joy to be involved in the benefits our club brings to the people of our community.” Jeanna Kennedy

“Flowers beautify and enrich our homes. Similarly, Civic Club volunteers enrich Elk by helping grow a stronger, happier, well-educated community. I am proud to be a blooming member of a very worthwhile organization.” Patty Wolfe

Cindy Johnson in her Sunflower

October

“Bright and cheery, bold yet comfortable, the Sunflower evokes feelings of warmth and happiness. I chose this flower because its sunny face always lifts my spirits, and I admire its loyal and constant quest for light and all that is bright in the world. I think of the Greenwood Civic Club as the sunflower in the garden of Elk.” Cindy Johnson

Angela Zucker poses in Orchids

November

“Mother Nature’s flowers connect us with what we need, providing a tangible joy that adds to our lives in a unique & caring way. Flowers give back in beauty what they receive in love and nurturing. They are the perfect compliment to the Civic Club’s 2009 calendar. Our club has a deeply rooted tradition of providing to the community. I am honored to be a member.” Angela Zucker

Jane Sinclair looks lovely in Narcissus

December

"I am proud to be a third generation member of the Greenwood Civic Club in this special, little, yet very large town. Our club has been of great service to this community for 91 years. 'Now that's a good thing!' The Narcissus is a favorite flower of mine, and was very much enjoyed by my mother and grandmother before me." Jane Sinclair

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE GREENWOOD CIVIC CLUB

The Greenwood Civic Club was founded in 1917 by a group of ladies in the town of Greenwood, California (now known as Elk) who were dedicated to community service, especially in regard to the welfare of children. In the 1960s and 70s, the name was changed to "Greenwood Hobbyists" and the interest of the members became arts and crafts and also the preservation of the history of the area. To this end, the club has published several books on the subject by local authors.

In the mid 1980s, the group took back the former name of Greenwood Civic Club and once again the focus of activities and fund raising has been for the welfare of the community, specifically by supporting the Volunteer Fire and Ambulance Service, giving scholarships to deserving Elk students and by helping the Greenwood Community Center and its various youth programs each year.

The Club continues its efforts to keep the town history alive by reprinting its history books while also preserving the many old pictures of the early days of the town on display at the local State Park Museum.

This calendar as a fund raiser will hopefully help to keep our activities for the community welfare going strong.
